Renting an apartment

If you want to rent an apartment or a house in the city we strongly advise you to contact a real-estate agency (agenție imobiliară). They can provide you with information about the most interesting offers on the market. You will have to sign a contract with them in which you agree to pay a commission fee, usually 50% of the rent for 1 month. You can find a two-room flat at 200 – 350 EUR per month. It may or may not be furnished. You will have to pay separately for all utilities: water, electricity, gas, telephone, etc. A deposit representing the rent for the first three months is usually required. It will be refunded at the end of your stay, provided that you leave the flat in good condition.

You should sign a contract with the landlord and this should be registered at the notary. In order to register the contract, you will need the following documents:

- Your passport or the temporary residence permit (original and a photocopy);
- Your landlord's ID (original and a photocopy);
- A lease contract, in 3 copies (usually provided by the real-estate agency);

NOTE: in case you decide to rent an apartment, it is imperative that you sign a contract and have it registered at the administration, because you will need it in order to apply for the temporary residence permit.

Of course, there are also other ways to find out what's on the market, namely by reading the classifieds column of the newspapers. The "Makler" weekly magazine (the market from A to Z), available and on line <http://makler.md/ru/chisinau/real-estate> with hundreds of classifieds about home rentals or consult some other useful links: <http://999.md/category/real-estate>

By train

There is one Central Railway Station which recently received rehabilitation and has all necessary facilities for a traveller. The main hall has a board of arrivals and departures plus an ATM which accepts foreign cards and providing both Euro and Moldavian Leu. An other ATM is located in the right side of the station sided with an exchange office. Next to the main hall there is a manned luggage storage office which works 24 hours with very low prices. Also international ticket counters are all accepting foreign credit or debit cards (April 2016). The trains depart to Europe through Romania and to CIS (Community of Independent States).

For more details: <http://cfm.md/>

By car

The road leading from Chişinău to Leuseni is pretty nice. You are likely to be sharing the road with trucks, cars, and livestock, all moving at various speeds without a lot of regard for safety. It is thus better to rely on public transport, which is very cheap and (mostly) reliable.

By bus

Note that Chişinău has three bus stations - the central one (serving mainly in-country destinations), Gara de Nord (for in-country destinations on the northern part of the country like Sorocca, Rezina, Ocnita, for travel to Odessa, Kyiv and elsewhere in Ukraine) and the larger Gara de Sud (for in-country destinations in the southern part of the country like Comrat, Cahul and for journeys to Romania). You can check bus timetables (both in-country, and international destinations) at this website: <http://www.autogara.md/>

There are several buses throughout the day from Bucharest, Odessa, Iasi, Chernivtsi, and Lviv. The journey to/from Odessa takes around five hours. Most Odessa-bound buses go through southern Moldova, avoiding the Transnistrian region - these will be marked as going through Palanka or Causeni. The journey to Iasi is three and a half hours long, with travel on to Brasov. There are many buses and rutierele headed to Bender and Tiraspol in Transnistria, about one every forty minutes .

Local Transport

There are more than 30 taxi services operating throughout the city and its suburbs. Call 14222, 14333, 14444, 14747, 14448 or other 14xxx numbers to get a taxi. Taxi service 14700 frequently has an English speaking person though this is not guaranteed.

You can download the app: iTaxi, Yandex Go.

It is highly recommendable as a non Russian or Romanian speaking person, to have a local person/hotel or restaurant call your taxi, as few Taxi drivers speak proper English. In case you need a receipt for your travel, you need to ask for this specifically when ordering. Also, payment by credit card is possible.

Please remember to bring small cash, as sometimes they will not be "able" to give back on anything larger than 50 bills, but this is rare. Average prices vary across company/individual taxi driver, and it is fairly inconsistent. Expect prices between 30-100 for shorter rides and 150-300 Lei for longer rides.

Practical Guide ULIM

For budget travelers, there is an interactive public transport map, clicking on Travel & Transport: bus, minibus, trolleybus. A trolley-bus ride costs 6 lei while a bus ride costs 6 lei, collected by a conductor who walks up and down the bus after each stop. Minibuses cost 6 lei, which is paid to the driver upon entry. There are few set stops for minibuses: and it is usually OK to just tell the driver when you want to get off, although recently introduced rules mean that drivers may not do this so much any more but will stop on street corners etc. Flag him down with your hand (just like you would with a taxi) when the vehicle approaches you on the street. Some minibuses numbers correspond to more than one service line, running roughly parallel to each other, that is why they also have a sign with main route shown on the windscreen, besides their number.

Visitors arriving by air must fly into the Chisinau Airport, which is 12 km from the city center. The national airline, Air Moldova, together with several foreign airlines, operates regular routes from Chisinau to cities in Europe and neighboring countries. From there travelers can connect to destinations worldwide. A complete flight schedule for Chisinau Airport is available on the airport's website. Direct flights to Frankfurt, Istanbul, Moscow, Munich, and Vienna offer some of the best connections. Below you will find information for selected airlines that fly into Moldova. A complete list of destinations and airlines is available on the Chisinau Airport website.

Taxis are readily available at the airport. SkyTaxi and 14700 are the authorized airport taxis, however many other taxis also wait to pick up passengers. Visitors are advised to accept rides from only marked taxis. There is no standard taxi color, so look for taxis clearly marked as such and bearing their company's telephone number - a five digit number beginning in 14.

Fares from the city center to the airport will cost a bit more, typically 100-150 lei, especially if originating from a hotel. The Chisinau Airport website has information about airport taxi services.

Money

Moldova's currency is the Leu (pl. lei), abbreviated MDL. Moldovan banknotes are denominated into 1, 5, 10, 20, 50, 100, 200, 500, and 1,000 lei notes. One leu is comprised of 100 bani. Coins are denominated into 1, 5, 10, 25, and 50 bani coins.

Foreign currencies may be exchanged at banks or at exchange offices (casa de schimb or birou de schimb valutar). Most exchange offices only exchange Euros, U.S. Dollars, British Pounds, Swiss Francs, Romanian Lei, Ukrainian Hryvnia, Russian Rubles, and Turkish Lira.
